Our Apologies

Once again we must apologise for the delay in producing this issue. We had to scrap the Autumn issue owing to a series of incidents and in the past couple of months we suffered two deaths in our ranks and a senior activist was hospitalised for a month.
New volunteers have been recruited and we hope to be back on schedule soon. Thanks for your patience!

War Criminals

Israel's action against the Palestinian people in Gaza is rapidly being exposed as an "ethnic cleansing" campaign designed to force Palestinians to take refuge in Egypt and allow the Israeli state to absorb Gaza into "Greater Israel".
Over 28,000 Palestinians have been killed including over 11,000 women and children.
Israel complains over accusations of "Genocide" but the Oxford English dictionary describes this as being,
"a crime committed with the intent to destroy a national, ethnic, racial or religious group, in whole or in part."
Israel is guilty of Genocide and must be punished by the entire international community!

David Irving

We were very sad to learn of the declining health of the champion of "Real History", David Irving.
Mr Irving was taken ill in October whilst visiting Florida in the United States and has been in declining health ever since. He is now back in the UK and requires round-the-clock care, a demand his family had to arrange privately due to constraints with NHS services. He was hospitalised for nearly two months.
This is an appeal by the family to safeguard the essence of a man whose life's work has been to bring us closer to the nuanced truths of our past. Your donations will be pivotal in two primary areas: Medical Care and Support: Your contributions will ensure that David receives exemplary care to manage his condition and uphold the highest quality of life. Preservation and Continuation of His Work: Financial support is also imperative to safeguard David's extensive body of work. Please post donations to:..

SUPPORT FOR GAZA GENOCIDE

Is NOT in My Name

Following the cowardly attack by the Arab terrorist group Hamas on Israeli homes and a music festival, and the taking of over 200 hostages, Israel received immediate support from the British government and establishment. The British Prime Minister, Rishi Sunac announced that Britain would "stand unequivocally with Israel". Predictably, Israel described the attack, as a "Holocaust" and vowed "revenge".

"Britain Stands Unequivocally with Israel".

Whoever in the Hamas leadership made the decision to attack must have realised such attacks were literally a "suicide mission". Israel has fighter bombers and fighter helicopters. Israel has armoured tanks and heavy artillery. Israel has battleships capable of launching a bombardment from the sea.
Hamas has none of these!

With the ongoing support of Britain and others, Israel's "right to defend itself" soon turned into the ethnic cleansing of Palestinian lands.
In a few short weeks, Israeli airpower turned 80% of Gaza into rubble. Civilian homes were bombed, as were hospitals, schools and refugee camps.

Gaza's borders were sealed and the Israeli occupation troops severely limited the amount of food, water and fuel for electricity producing generators entering Gaza. Consequently, over 40 newborn babies in incubators died of cold!
What started as Israel's "right to defend itself" rapidly turned into the Genocide of the Palestinian people. At the time of writing over 25,000 Palestinians have been reported killed by the Israeli Defence Force (IDF) . Predictably, the IDF have claimed these were Hamas fighters, but how do they explain over 10,000 of the Palestinian dead have been confirmed as children! Hardly the typical Hamas activists! Following IDF airstrikes and ground operations in Gaza, hundreds more bodies are missing, presumed buried under the rubble of their homes and schools. According to the internationally recognised Save the Children Fund

"children in Gaza surviving the violence are enduring unspeakable horrors, including life-changing injuries, burns, disease inadequate medical care and losing their parents and other loved ones. They have been forced to flee violence with no safe place to go, and face the terror of an uncertain future. About 1000 children in Gaza have lost one or both of their legs as a direct result of Israeli aggression. Many having them amputated without anaesthetic and will require a lifetime of medical care"

Rishi Sunac, you might support this Genocide, but don't support it in MY name!

Record Number of Asylum Seekers are Given Refuge in Britain

A record number of Asylum seekers have been given permission to stay in Britain as the Home Office struggles to clear the backlog of applicants.

Official figures show 38,761 asylum claims were approved in the year to September 2023. With 42,000 applications being made, this reflects that 75% of applicants were given approval.

Home Office records reveal that this is the highest number of migrants granted asylum since records began in 1984. The previous high was 33,000 people (34%).
The largest numbers of applicants were from Afghanistan, of which 99% were granted.

Visa Abuse

Foreign nationals are abusing our visa system by entering Britain on a study or holiday visa, and then claiming asylum. Over 20,000 such claims were made in the 12 months to June. Most of these applicants came from Bangladesh and India.

Asylum Seekers Take British Jobs

It has long been accepted that Asylum seekers are not allowed to take paid employment until their claims for asylum has been approved, but an investigation by a national newspaper has revealed that the Home Office has secretly approved up to 16,000 asylum seekers to take Britons jobs in the private sector. These include migrants who have entered Britain illegally via small boats across the Channel.
Depending on their earnings, the migrants can also retain their weekly £49 subsistence allowance paid directly to them by the Home Office. They can also continue to remain in taxpayer funded bed and board asylum accommodation.

The asylum seekers are permitted to work in sectors where there is a perceived shortage of British workers, such as the construction and care home sectors.
The policy has been criticised by several union leaders who claim the practice simply sustains low wages in these sectors.
"If employers paid a reasonable wage then they would get British workers to take these jobs" one told League Sentinel.

Migration Crisis

Europe Suspends Free Movement Over Migrant Crisis

Schengen Borders Re- Introduced

Eleven members of the European Union (EU) have defied EU regulations on "free movement" and re-introduced internal borders as they battle to contain terrorist threats and out of control immigration. The border rebels included EU "big hitters" such as France and Germany, who were signatories to the original creation of the Schengen agreement almost 40 years ago.
Norway, Denmark, Italy, Sweden, Poland, Czechia, Slovakia and Austria have also joined "the rebels".

The eleven are united in their belief that border checks are now essential to stop "infiltration" by Middle -Eastern terrorists posing as migrants, and the strain on asylum reception facilities.

Denmark now monitors its land and sea borders and is planning to reintroduce checks on all air traffic to the country.
Germany received over a quarter of a million asylum applications last year and 20,000 illegal migrants entered the country in one month alone. Chancellor Olaf Scholz condemned the demands on the taxpayers to provide food, housing and benefit payments for the newcomers from Africa and the Middle-East adding, "we must finally deport on a grand scale those who have no right to stay in Germany. They must leave our country".

The EU's Schengen Borders Code states that controls and checks must be a "last resort in the face of serious threat to an individual nation's security".
And, it seems, that some countries in Europe feel that threat has come!

Nationalist Jailed for Five Years

James Costello, a British nationalist and active member of Patriotic Alternative has been jailed for five years for public order offences.

In 2021, James was initially arrested for putting up three stickers that asked, "Are You Proud to be White?" Our politically-correct police decided this statement exceeded his right to free speech and free expression and charged him with a public order offence. Further investigations into his activities with the US-based, Creativity Movement (see right) which was founded as the Church of the Creator by Ben Klassen in 1987, led to him being charged with 21 further offences. Bizarrely, these offences did not relate to words created or spoken by James, but simply distributing and publishing the words of the religious order he believes in. At his trial, no evidence was submitted of incitement or violent intent and the judge even described him as a "man of good character" with no previous convictions. But despite this James was sentenced to five years in prison!

Described as a "tireless pro-White activist" by Patriotic Alternative, they have established a support network for James. Details are available from ... Patriotic Alternative. PO Box 275, Pudsey, LS28 0FQ

Mixed Fortunes for Britain First in By-Elections

Britain First had mixed fortunes in the two parliamentary by-elections held recently.
In Tamworth, they celebrated an incredible vote in the by-election, where they finished fourth behind, Labour (1st) Conservatives (2nd) Reform (3rd) but beating candidates from UKIP, the Green Party, and the Liberal Democrats.
But the good feeling vanished just a few months later with the result of the by-election in Wellingborough.
Following a professional campaign which included door to door canvassing, "battle bus" parades, marches and party propaganda posted to every voters house, the party could only manage to attract 477 votes, just 1.6% of the total votes cast. This left the party finishing eighth out of a total of eleven candidates!
The poor result was summarised by party-leader Paul Golding who commented, "This time, in Wellingborough, a lesbian with a 'save the trees' t-shirt achieved double the vote we received".

Despite the disappointment, the party have announced they will be contesting the election for the Mayor of London in May. They will also contest some seats in the London Assembly elections.

Black Lives Matter Organiser Jailed for Theft

A leader of the Black Lives Matter group has been jailed after pleading guilty to stealing £32,000 from the organisation.

Xahra Saleem,23, from Romford, Essex, kept the money raised from donations to a GoFundMe page instead of passing it on. She admitted in Bristol Crown Court that she had spent the money intended for the charity on new "toys" such as a new Iphone and a Mac computer. She also spent almost £6000 on taxi fares.

Saleem was involved in organising a protest march in June 2020 which saw a statue of Victorian businessman Edward Colston torn down from its plinth and dumped in Bristol harbour over alleged links to the slave trade.

Saleem was criticised by the trial Judge for "living a lifestyle which she could not legally afford" and jailed for two and a half years.

A spokesman for BLM said they were trying to recover the money but held out little hope.

Hundreds of Foreign Criminals Dump Tags and Vanish

In our last edition we commented on proposals by the Home Office to electronically tag illegal migrants would simply result in them cutting and removing the tags and then vanishing into our underground economy.

Following a freedom of Information request by League Sentinel, the authorities have admitted that since 2021 over 400 non-British tagged criminals have abandoned their tags and vanished. So far this year, 316 offenders have dumped their tag. To date, Albanian criminals make up the largest group tagged in the UK with West Indian criminals in second place.

"An End To Industrial Unrest" - Lessons We Can Learn From The 'German Labour Front'

By P.A

As everyone reading this will be well aware, Britain is at present going through a period of 'Industrial unrest' that likes of which we last experienced in the 1970's. Mick Lynch, leader of the RMT, has become a household name and the 'Reds' are licking their lips in anticipation of the forthcoming 'Class War' which will lead to Revolution (they always believe this, deluded fools). But could Unions play a positive role in society?

Unlike other European countries that have Unions representing their different political parties (ie Christian Democrats, Social Democrats or Communists), at home Unions are either affiliated to the Labour Party or politically unaffiliated. The Labour Party was indeed founded in 1900 by the Unions to, in theory, increase Working Class representation in Parliament. The 'right'(1) in Britain have, in the most part, been hostile to Unions.

During the 1923 General Strike Rotha Linton-Orman's British Fascisti were involved in 'strike-breaking', as, in the 1930s was Billy Fullerton, a Scottish BUF sympathiser, and his "Boys". In the 1970's probably 'The Freedom Association' (formed by Norris McWhirter. Who with his twin brother Ross (2) founded the 'Guinness Book of Records') were the most renowned anti-trade unionist group after they managed to break through the mass pickett at Grunwick.(3) Some achievement back then. The National Front, in it's heyday, had a Trade Union Section (run by the redoubtable Ted Budden, if memory serves me correctly) and more recently, 2005 to be precise, 'Solidarity' Trade Union was set up by the British National Party and still staggers on with 173 members (2019 figure) under the leadership of Patrick Harrington.
But National Socialist Germany was very different.

By 1927 NSDAP workers in large factories, mainly in the Berlin, began organising to provide an alternative to Social Democratic, Christian and Communist Unions.

A year later the Nationalsozialistische Betriebszellenorganisation (NSBO - National Socialist Factory Cell Organisation) was established, and it began to increase its membership by aggressive campaigns under the war cry: "Hinein in die Betriebe" ("Into the Factories"), which became shortened to "Hib!". By the end of 1931 its membership had risen to a massive 300,000, and in Nordhorn, an industrial textile city in the county of Bentheim, the NSBO defeated the Communists in the 'Industrial Worker Council' elections. In May 1933 the NSBO became the German Labour Front (Deutsche Arbeitsfront or DAF), led by Robert Ley, which replaced the various independent Unions and brought them into one single body.

Three weeks later Hitler stated that a group of Labour trustees would "regulate labour contracts" and maintain "labour peace" therefore negating the reason(s) for industrial action. The leadership of the DAF stressed that there was no need for antagonism between workers and employers in National Socialist Germany. This new system of industrial relations was a major innovation by the NSDAP. Its aim was "to create a true and productive community of all Germans" and defined itself as "the organisation of creative Germans of brain and fist".(4) Real Socialism in action. The DAF sought not only to represent workers, but also provide them with leisure and entertainment thus establishing the 'Strength through Joy' organisation.

Lessons From the German Labour Front

Continued...

This provided workplace libraries, concerts, swimming pools, adult education programmes, variety shows, theatre visits, athletic events, subsidised tickets to the opera, and subsidised vacations with a focus on cruises.(5)

For those who desired holidays closer to home, the DAF constructed spa and summer resort complexes. The most ambitious of these was to be the 4.5km long 'Prora' on Rugen Island, designed to cater for 20,000 guests, it would have been the largest beach resort in the world if the Second World (Brother's) War hadn't been started by the Governments of Britain and France.

Robert Ley (above) explained his policy as aiming to "divert the attention of the masses from material to moral values" and stated "it is more important to feed the souls of men than their stomachs".

This was 'National Socialist Trade Unionism' in action, and it worked. By 1939 the DAF had 35,000 full time employees representing 25 million members.

'National Socialist Trade Unionism'

To put this into context Trade Union membership in Britain today is approximately 6.44 million. A big difference I'm sure you'll agree. At present, in Britain, we have a Government and Opposition that are indifferent to the legitimate concerns of Our People. If it wasn't bad enough that there are disruptive strikes, then add to this the imminent collapse of the NHS, failing schools, homelessness, police corruption, neglected towns and cities, under-investment, fuel poverty, food banks - the list goes on and on - and you'll see what a horrendous mess we're in. Only a fool is unable to see that Our Nation is sinking deeper and deeper into the mire, and that the "Old Gangs"(6) have no answers. It gives me absolutely no pleasure to say this (because it's Our Folk who are suffering), but the truth is the worse it gets the greater our opportunities to gain real influence become. The above just shows what can be achieved.

This, Comrades, is the vision we are fighting for. For the sake of Our Folk the future must be ours!

1) I have used 'right' in this case for simplicity. When it comes to National Socialism I follow Colin Jordan's maxim - "We National Socialists are no part of Democracy's political pattern, right, left or centre. We are wholly outside it...."

Freedom Party Win Dutch Elections

Will Gert Wilders Become Prime Minister ?

The Patriotic-Nationalist Freedom Party (PVV) gained the most seats in the recent Dutch General election, and now looks to create a coalition to form a new government.

Party leader, Geert Wilders (above) has vowed to try to become prime minister and has said he is in favour of a referendum on the country's EU membership after his party scored an unexpected and emphatic victory in Wednesday's general election.

The Freedom Party, whose manifesto included calls for bans on mosques, the Qur'an, and the wearing of Islamic headscarves in government buildings – won 37 seats in the 150-seat parliament, more than double its previous number. The party that wins the most seats traditionally provides the next prime minister; but it is by no means guaranteed to do so. The existing Prime Minister Mark Rutte of the Freedom and Democracy party (VVD)will remain in a caretaker role until a new government is installed, which may not be before next spring.

Dutch election results

PVV - Freedom (37 seats)
PvdA-GL - Greens and Labour (25)
VVD - Freedom and Democracy (24)
NSC - New Social Contract (20)
D66 - Democrats 66 (9)
BBB - Farmer-Citizen Movement (7)
CDA - Christian Democrats (5)
Others (23)

The Freedom Party's performance was saluted by other European Patriotic-Nationalist leaders. Hungary's Prime Minister, Viktor Orbán, said the results showed "the winds of change are here!" while the French Nationalist leader, Marine Le Pen, said it confirmed "the growing attachment to the defence of national identities". Italian PM Giorgia Meloni said the result was "a vote for common sense"

France Bans Muslim Robes in Schools

The French government have banned pupils attending state schools from wearing the full-length robe known as the Abaya.
This the latest move by the government to take religion out of the schools system. The face covering headscarf, the Burka has already been banned from schools.

AfD Make Gains in State Elections

The Patriotic-Nationalist, Alternative for Germany party (AfD) made gains in both the Hessian and Bavarian state elections recently.

The 2023 Hessian state election was held on 8 October 2023 to elect the Hessian state government. The outgoing government was a coalition of the Christian Democratic Union and The Greens, led by Minister-President Boris Rhein of the CDU.

The result was a clear victory for the CDU, which took almost 35% of the vote on a swing of 7.6 percentage points. At 18%, the Alternative for Germany lifted its vote by over five points and became the second-largest party in a Western state for the first time. The Greens lost five points, falling to fourth place on 15%, just behind the opposition Social Democratic Party (SPD) who suffered similar losses.

The 2023 Bavarian state election was held on the same day also to elect a new state government. The outgoing government was a coalition of the Christian Social Union in Bavaria (CSU) and the Free Voters of Bavaria (FW) led by Minister-President of Bavaria Markus Söder. The CSU remained the largest party with only a slight decline to 37%. The Free Voters improved to second place with 16%, their best result to date. Alternative for Germany (AfD) was a close third on 15%. The Greens declined to 14%, followed by the Social Democratic Party (SPD) on a historic low of 8%. The Free Democratic Party (FDP) fell to 3% and lost their seats. Alice Weidel, the co-leader of the AfD, said the gains were a breakthrough moment, showing that "AfD is no longer an eastern phenomenon, but has become a major all-German party. We have arrived."

YULETIDE and the WINTER SOLSTICE

The traditional Festival of Yule and the Winter Solstice have largely vanished into the Christian festival of Christmas, itself now challenged by politically correct councils to vanish it into a non-religious "Winter Festival". But what is Yuletide and the Winter Solstice? Both of which were celebrated by our North European ancestors long before Christianity?

To our ancestors living in the forests and on the frozen plains of Northern Europe, the Winter Solstice was an important religious event. Also known as the festival of Yule it celebrated the end of the dark days of winter, and the coming of the new spring. For the Solstice marked the shortest day and longest night of the year. It is also the turning point of the year, as following the longest night, the sun begins to grow stronger in the sky and gradually the days become longer again. From a religious perspective it is a celebration of rebirth and hope for the future. Several ancient sites of "standing stones" are aligned to catch the birth of the new dawn.

The festival of Yule goes by different names throughout Nordic Europe, Jul in Scandinavia, and Jol in old Icelandic .The Prose Edda has references to the Yule festival as does the Ynglinga saga, which mentions a Yule feast lasting three nights. Although in some parts of Europe the festival went on for twelve nights. Feasting as part of the Yule festival seems common practice throughout, with records of toasts being drunk first to Odin for "victory" and then to the gods Njoror and Freyr "for good harvests and for peace".

Fire also played a vital part in the celebrations with the Yule log being burnt on a ceremonial fire and candles or specially prepared lanterns being lit.

Many Pagan dwellers of the great forests that covered much of Northern Europe worshipped "gods of nature" such as the Green Man. This figure was depicted as having two sides, one made of Holly, the Holly King, and the other of Oak, the Oak King. In winter, when nature is dormant and most trees have shed their leaves the Holly King, an evergreen, rules supreme. Following the Winter Solstice, as mother earth warms up, the Oak springs back to life and the Oak King rules again. Thus is the everlasting cycle of nature.

The "Green Man"

Even after Europe began to convert to Christianity the Festival of Yule was still celebrated. In AD 730, the "Father of English History" the Venerable Bede, recorded that the Pagan Yule festival was still being celebrated in parts of Britain, and in AD 840, King Haakon, the first Christian King of Norway, mentions Yule feasts continue to be held throughout his icebound Kingdom.

A Merry Yule to you and your kith and kin. Blessed Be!
